

How many 'no spend' days
can you manage this month?

A no spend day is a day when you don't spend a single penny - it's practically impossible to do this every day but as many days as possible will do your budget the world of good!